

Transferring

Activity: Learning and Me

Deepen the idea that learning is part and parcel of living.

Time to think

Invite students to think about what they have learned over the last week or so in a variety of situations.

Encourage students to describe what learning means to them. Develop a wide range of ideas for learning behaviour.

A preliminary reflection on themselves as learners.

Discuss the words. Encourage open discussion.

Share your own selection — some positives and some negatives.

First page of the log.

Encourage students to look out for learning happening in all sorts of places and by many different people.

Re-emphasise that we all learn as part of life and that learning is not simply something we do at school.

Offer one or two examples of the sorts of things students might see and record.
